

Hebden Bridge is a small market town nestled in the heart of the Yorkshire Pennines ... with a difference.

From the old stone bridge that gives the town its name, look across a roofscape of old coaching inns and Victorian chapels, up to the distinctive double-decker houses ascending steep valley sides, and then to the woods and moors beyond. There are cafes, restaurants and pubs galore, little independent shops, art galleries ~ in the evening our historic Picture House and the famous Trades Club music venue ~ wavy steps onto the Hebden Water where you can feed the ducks, opportunities for many walks and bike rides, and hundreds of quirky stone steps - where do they lead?

THE RAILWAY STATION one of Simon Jenkins' 100 Best British Stations. Fully accessible with new passenger lift. Its café has recently been judged the best in the country! Opening hours bit.ly/2EYHbWK

THE VISITOR CENTRE 2016 Award-winner and the best place for information and recommendations about where to go and what's on whilst you're here. Plenty of walking and cycling leaflets, and hire an electric bike! Open every day 10am-5pm 01422 843831 hebdenbridge@ybtbic.co.uk.

TOWN CENTRE TRAIL. Wander back in time around the town, with historic and present day views of Hebden Bridge side-by-side. Visitors Centre £2.00 ~ DOUBLE DECKER HOUSING These unusual tall houses cling to the hillsides; the other side of the top half opens onto a different street.

THE BRIDGE The magnificent old packhorse bridge built in 1510. Spot the old inscriptions on the bridge recording various repairs. Next to the bridge are the WAVY STEPS where you can feed the ducks ~ and across it lies THE BUTTRESS a steep cobbled old packhorse trail to Lancashire goes via Heptonstall. Climb up part of the way for fabulous views.

In St George's Square you'll find our FUSTIAN KNIFE sculpture commemorating the fustian industry which the town was internationally famous for. It's also a giant sundial set just to 'Hebden Bridge' time ~ next to it WATER POWER OLD & NEW there's a water wheel turning inside Hebden Bridge Mill (Innovation) ~ a mill has stood on this site since the 14th century ~ and an Archimedes screw in the river outside, generating electricity ~ and across the river the TOWN HALL which always has an art exhibition, and waterfront cafe terrace.

ROCHDALE CANAL Watch boats at the marina (the former canal basin, next to the Visitor Centre) or going through the lock on the aqueduct crossing the River Calder; look over the side for the curious carved head ~ Or take a boat trip on the Canal from Stubbing Wharf Pub a few minutes walk away. www.hebdenbridgecruises.com Advance booking only 07966 808717.

Walkers and cyclists are welcome in Hebden Bridge

In 2020 both the Men's and Women's races of the Tour de Yorkshire return to Hebden Bridge on Saturday 2nd May. The first visit in 2015 came the year after the race stage through the town of the Tour De France itself! Hebden became the first ever 'Walkers are Welcome' town, so muddy boots are accepted here. Many guides for walkers and cyclists are available at the Visitor Centre.

WALK: There's a full list of walks at www.hbwalkersaction.org.uk/self-guided-walks/ and www.heartofthepennines.org.uk/path-network The Pennine Way passes above the town, with now a Loop connecting to it. You can walk in the National Trust's Hardcastle Craggs; or for something more leisurely catch one of our little buses up to the tops and then walk down. bit.ly/2DtWboj for pictures of all those quirky stone steps.

CYCLE: We're really on the cyclists' map, including National Route 66 and the West Yorkshire 'City Connect' cycle network. And if you fancy a challenge why not ride up Cragg Vale, England's longest continuous road climb: 5½ miles at an average gradient of 3%; or 'Up the Buttress' - just a little bit steeper.

Eat well, drink well

Hebden Bridge supports more cafes, pubs, and restaurants than many other much larger places - another ingredient for a great day out. And they're independent. No Starbucks, No Costa... just friendly local proprietors serving good coffee, tea, cakes, breakfasts, snack lunches and more. There are cafes in old mills, by the canal, in the park, along the river, everywhere. Many restaurants too, featuring the cuisine of an array of nations: Chinese, English, Fish and Chips, Greek, Indian, Italian, Japanese, Mexican, Persian, Thai, Tibetan, Turkish, and Vegetarian. And no fewer than 14 pubs/micro-pubs, with a vast selection of real ales from independent brewers.

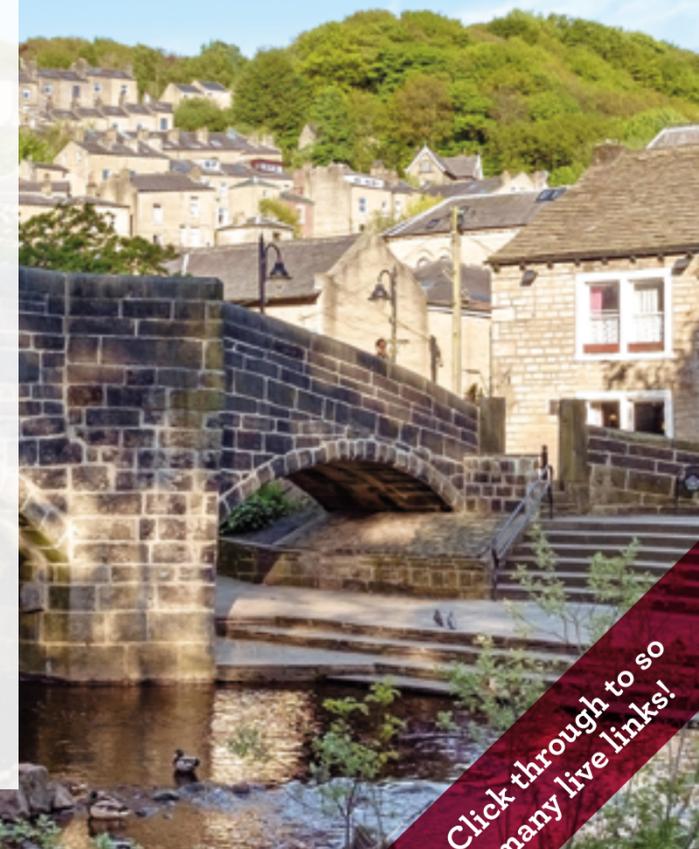

Shop 'independently'

In 2016 Hebden Bridge won a 'Great British High Street' award. Why? Because in place of the usual chain stores that dominate most towns the vast majority of shops in the town are independent local outlets often selling local produce and art works. There are bookshops, record shops, comic shops, jewellery shops, antique shops, outdoor clothes shops, dress shops, quality charity shops, unusual gift shops, not to mention decent butchers, bakers and wholefood stores. Buy local bread, local meat, local cheese. Market days are food/general market - Thursday; bric-a-brac - Friday; local produce and arts & crafts - Saturday; local foods - Sundays

Enjoy the arts and crafts

You'll find art and creativity all around Hebden Bridge, especially at ArtsMill www.artsmill.org and Northlight www.northlightstudio.co.uk There are always exhibitions in the Town Hall, and the Visitor Centre. Hebble End Works on the canal has around 10 artisan crafts shops bit.ly/2FYeVfj
